

This holiday season, I invite you to join me in stopping puppy mills. Puppy mills are mass-breeding establishments where puppies are churned out in shockingly poor conditions. I have pledged not to buy my next pet from a pet store or Internet site, some of the biggest outlets for puppy mills, and not to buy pet supplies at stores that sell puppies. Many people buy pets during the holidays without knowing where they really came from. Find out more about this pledge at www.humanesociety.org/pupmills.
